China Manufacturer Polycarboxylate Superplasticizer PCE

China Manufacturer Polycarboxylate Superplasticizer PCE is a new type of water-reducing agent. The utilization of this product can improve the slump retention performance of the concrete, ensuring a barely no loss within half an hour and a small loss within 1 hour. China Manufacturer Polycarboxylate Superplasticizer PCE also plays a good role in reducing cement additive amount, improving water reducing efficiency and dropping shrinkage rate. Using this product can validly boost concrete flowability so to extend the setting time during construction. What's more, it can promote the workability and physical properties of the concrete, which is important for construction quality.

Benefits

Low permeability and make the concrete more durable. Excellent cohesion, zero segregation and minimal bleed water despite the concrete having extremely high levels of workability. The slump loss is small. High elastic modulus, low shrinkage and creep are achievable with proper controlled coarse and fine aggregates. Superior finishes with reduced honey combing.
